G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Detroit Completely Filled With Veterans.

THOUSANDS ON THE MARCH.

The Great Parade Takes Place According to Program—Prospective Candidates for Commander-in-Chief—Washington and Lincoln, Nebraska Both Struggling for the Next Encampment.

DETROIT, Aug. 4.—The city of Detroit has assumed a martial air today. The veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic in attendance to the twenty-fifth annual encampment have been arriving for the past forty-eight hours, not only by hundreds, but thousands. The great event of this gathering is the parade which is now taking place. Thousands of grizzly veterans are in line, and fully 200,000 visitors are in the city.

Business is practically suspended, and the tramp of the G. A. R. and the inspiring music of bands are heard on every hand.

The parade this year was entirely of the old veterans, not a single military company turning out. The Fourth regiment, however, were out and doing police duty, and the city in reality has been given over to the veterans, every street within three blocks of the line of march being closed by the proclamation of the mayor and intrusion further guarded against by the roping off of the section and the stationing of a strong armed guard at each street intersection.

One company, that from Union City, Mich., are in heavy marching arms with the old Springfield muskets and the same accoutrements as they wore when they marched out of Detroit in the stormy days when men were needed and Michigan did its duty.

With its streets full of marching men, with every house quartering a veteran, with the strains of music floating on every breath of the wind, and with the sound of the drum and the shrill note of the fife in the air, Detroit is experiencing a time the like of which it has never seen before, and will never see again. Thanks to the perfect arrangements there is room for all with plenty to eat, and nothing lacking to make the silver encampment worthy of the name of perfect success.

Detroit Decorated.

Detroit is decorated. The spirit of war is abroad. Patriotism is running riot, and if the Grand Army doesn't enjoy itself this week it will not be from any fault on the part of Detroit. The decorations are widely, weirdly wonderful, and promise to take the ribbon for uniqueness. There are colossal arches of spotless white, over which will hover the angel of peace, and there are effulgent structures bristling with quaker guns and other dangerous furniture.

Even nature has been forced to take a hand, and Grand Circus park has been transformed into a floral poultry show, with the immortal George as chief custodian. If all the birds represented there are eagles it behooves naturalists to wend their steps that way, for the like was never seen in the heavens above nor in the earth below. Washington in variegated plant decorates one side of a grass pyramid, and gazes serenely through a pair of stag eyes of a color which in the original would have called for an application of beefsteak. Every window on Woodward, Michigan, Jefferson and, in fact, all avenues are ablaze with pictures of heroes past and present, from Romulus in undress uniform to General Alger decked out like a walking arsenal, and it is a very poor place indeed that does not show the national colors.

The old saying about beauty unadorned applies with peculiar force to this city. No matter what her garb, whether aglow with the life and color of summer, or enshrouded in the glistening mantle of winter, she is peerless, and no decoration committee can do other than make Detroit royally handsome.

Receiving the Comrades.

There has been very little done except to receive the old comrades in arms and to renew the old associations, and to gather around the dignitaries who have won distinction since the days when all marched to the front to the old tunes and under the shade of the same flag. Among the early prominent arrivals yesterday was Secretary of War Redfield Proctor, who was accompanied by Quartermaster General Bachelder. He had no sooner left his private car than he was surrounded by a mob of people anxious to shake hands with him, and the whole day was spent in receiving the marks of distinction from the old veterans.

General Fairchild, of Wisconsin, with one empty sleeve to tell the wealth of love he bore his country and his country's cause, was another of the citizen soldiery that all delighted to honor, while General Alger, right at home where he is loved, was given a reception as hearty and cordial as any. Ex-President Hayes was also honored by loud applause whenever the crowd caught sight of him, and was last night surrounded by an immense crowd attending his reception at Colonel F. J. Heckler's house.

After the Next Encampment.

The politics of the Grand Army have been an object of much importance, first on the selection of a place of encampment and second for the choice of a commander-in-chief. While Washington has the lead in location, the champions of the capital cannot rest on their oars, as hustlers from Lincoln, Neb., are here, and when hustlers from that state arrive, it means hustle from first to last. They are waging a losing fight, an uphill fight, but are doing it with so much good will, so much vim and almost in the face of defeat, that the old veterans, many of whom have led a forlorn hope, cannot but admire their pluck, although they do not want to go there, should Washington let up in its exertions. Washington won't do anything of the kind, however, and Frank Hatton, who is head and front of the Columbia warriors, will win and have the pleasure of getting an affirmative answer to his invitation of silver on a platter of gold, with the key of the city of Washington surmounting it.

Candidates for Commander-in-Chief.

The most prominent candidates for the position as commander-in-chief are A. G. Weissert, of Milwaukee; Colonel William R. Smedburg, of San Francisco; Brevet Brigadier General Samuel H. Hurst, of Chillicothe, O., and Colonel C. P. Lincoln, of Michigan. Weissert was a prominent candidate for the position a year ago and withdrew in favor of General Veazey. He will probably get the support of General Veazey's friends and is a strong candidate.

Colonel Smedburg is probably the most enthusiastic G. A. R. man on the Pacific coast. He has done much toward the organizing and booming the G. A. R. in California and other Pacific states, and is very popular throughout the west. He is also a very energetic and enthusiastic Loyal Legion man, and will get the support of members of the Loyal Legion who are attending the encampment.

General Hurst is popularly known as "Fighting Sam," and comes with the unanimous backing of the Ohio delegation. He is an active G. A. R. man and was an excellent department commander. He was colonel of the Seventy-third Ohio infantry and well deserved his title of "Fighting Sam." One hundred and seventy-one men in his regiment were killed in action—the heaviest proportion in Ohio regiments.

Colonel Lincoln is a well known Michigan man who now holds the position of deputy commissioner of pensions. He will get the unanimous support of Michigan and may get support from eastern states.

In addition to the above candidates have been mentioned the names of General H. A. Larnum, of New York City; General Ira John Palmer, of Albany; and General Ira M. Hedges, of Haverstraw, N. Y. They are all from the same state and will possibly divide between them on the first ballot the fifty votes of New York.

Presentation of Medals.

Last night's festivities consisted of three presentations, one to the commander-in-chief, Veazey, of a $1,000 gold medal set with diamonds, one of these sent to General Alger from his aides of last year, and one to Mayor Pingree, a member of the Second Massachusetts heavy artillery, who has cared for all the members of his battery by turning his magnificent estate into a camp with a menu card in the feed tent that would make many hotels green with envy.

The Color Question.

One of the perplexing questions to come up at this meeting is the admission of colored posts. The southern delegates are strongly opposed, while the negroes are as strong in their demand for equality and have the sympathy of the north to a large extent.

STILL SERIOUS.

The Labor Trouble Among the Striking Italians Not Yet Settled.

CIRCLEVILLE, O., Aug. 4.—Colonel Buell was unable to pay the Italian laborers for their work on the railroad and the situation is still serious. Buell is virtually a prisoner and the Italians would mob him if he should try to escape.

As the sympathy is all with the Italians, Sheriff Wallace says he is virtually without means to preserve order. Buell made several attempts to get money, but failed, and the Italians are living on charity. Sheriff Wallace and County Treasurer Harper had a dispute incident to the matter and Wallace drew his revolver, but was prevented from shooting by friends.

Effects of a Newspaper War.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 4.—A difficulty occurred here yesterday afternoon between N. G. Gonzales, editor of The State newspaper and M. F. Tighe, the Columbia correspondent of The Charleston News and Courier. The trouble grew out of a scurrilous publication by Tighe reflecting upon the political course of The State. Yesterday morning's edition of The State contained a scathing denunciation of Correspondent Tighe, who, in response sent an insulting letter to Gonzales. Gonzales procured a rawhide, proceeded to Tighe's office and commenced to cowhide him. The sheriff, the mayor, and the chief of police, who were conveniently near, however, overpowered Gonzales and put an end to the castigation.

Omaha Bricklayers Strike.

OMAHA, Aug. 4.—All the bricklayers in the city except the employees of two firms struck Monday morning for eight hours' work with eight hours' pay and seven hours on Saturday, at the same pay. The bosses refused to pay for the hour not worked on Saturday, hence the strike.

Nearly every hour brings forth a new strike. The new eight-hour law is being violated by the mayor and the police commissioners, by the policemen being compelled to work twelve-hour shifts. The Central Labor union will file a complaint against them, and attempt to remove them from office according to the provisions of the act.

Pittsburg Blaze.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 4.—A fire at Millvale, Pa., yesterday destroyed Watkins' box factory, and Lutz pickle factory adjoining, and damaging eight dwelling houses. The total loss was about $25,000. The fire was caused by the explosion of a boiler in the box factory. No one was injured.

Wheat Burned by Lightning.

VINCENNES, Ind., Aug. 4.—During the storm Sunday evening lightning struck the wheat-ricks on John Halter's farm, in Johnson township, six miles south of this city, and seven were consumed. Fifteen hundred bushels of wheat were destroyed.

A FRAUD EXPOSED.

How a Montreal Firm Has Been Gulling the People.

LOOKED AFTER IN WASHINGTON.

The Postoffice Department Taking Steps to Stop Mail and Money Sent to "The Home Fascinator" of Montreal—The World's Fair Prizes Proved a Farce.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The officers of the assistant attorney general for the post office department have at last adopted plans, approved by the postmaster general, which is thought will break up a very novel and extensive fraudulent enterprise, that The Home Fascinator company of Montreal, Canada, with the aid of the mails, has been working very successfully upon many credulous people in the United States.

This concern, it is stated, publishes a monthly journal called The Home Fascinator, alleged to be devoted to useful knowledge, romance, etc., etc. The "etc." seemed to cover the greater part of the paper and consisted of an advertisement of four prizes to be awarded to persons sending in the largest correct list of English words of not less than four letters, constructed from the letters contained in the words "The World's Fair," each competitor to send with the list the sum of $1, the subscription price of the paper.

An enormous circulation had been acquired throughout the United States upon the basis of this offer. Prizes were advertised to be awarded on June 25, 1891, the first prize consisting of $1,000 in gold, the second prize, a grand piano, valued at $400, and the fourth prize, a sewing machine, estimated at $65. As to the third prize, consisting of "a silver tea set, gold-lined and valued at $120," the clever and unique plan was adopted of awarding it to thousands of persons, as indicated by the receipt of the following printed notice, which was sent through the United States mails to the subscribers of the paper throughout the country:

OFFICE OF THE HOME FASCINATOR, MONTREAL, July 20, 1891.

DEAR MADAME—With pleasure we inform you that you are one of the successful competitors in the world's fair contest, and that you have been awarded an elegant silver tea set, gold lined. The cost of boxing, packing and shipping is $4.90, which amount kindly remit us by registered letter, postoffice order or express money order, and we will instruct our United States agent to ship the prize to you.

To avoid mistakes, you will oblige us by returning this letter with your full address written plainly in ink on the lines below. Congratulating you, we remain faithfully,

THE HOME FASCINATOR PUBLISHING COMPANY.

P. S.—We ask you as a special favor to show this beautiful prize to your friends, and at the same time speak a good word for The Home Fascinator.

The circulars asking for remittance of $4.90 to pay for packing and shipping the prize, it is stated, have been freely distributed throughout Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa and Pennsylvania so far as advices have been received. In one small town in Missouri, six persons were notified that each one had been awarded the silver tea set and six money orders, amounting to $4.90 each were promptly forwarded to The Home Fascinator company at Montreal, Canada. Canada has no statute authorizing the stoppage of payment of money orders or the delivery of registered letters addressed to a person working a fraud through the mails. The postmaster general of this country can not prevent the issuance of money orders or the mailing of a registered letter, so it looked as if the scheme would work with no power to prevent the complete success of the swindle. The return of the circular letter destroyed all written evidence of advice from The Fascinator company to the victim.

The department seemed powerless to act and avert the consummation of a great wrong carried on through its own mails, and it was suggested that all American terminal postoffices designated as exchange postoffices with Canada, should be treated as offices of destination, and the postmasters there instructed by wire to refuse to certify money orders or forward registered letters, payable and directed to The Home Fascinator company, Montreal, Canada, but to return the same to the offices of origin marked fraudulent.

It is expected that many thousands of letters containing money will thus be restored to the writers.

THEY HAVE FALLEN OFF.

This Year's Customs Receipts as Compared with Those of 1890.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A statement prepared at the treasury department shows that the receipts of customs at the port of New York for the seven months of the present calendar year have fallen off as compared with the corresponding months of the calendar year 1890, $22,444,378. The receipts for July, 1891, were $11,303,169, while for July, 1890, they were $17,173,016, showing a falling off of nearly $6,000,000.

It is estimated that two-thirds of the custom duties paid in the United States are collected at the port of New York. Other ports show as great a decrease as New York. If the same decrease continues during the year, receipts from customs at New York will show a falling off of $30,000,000 and from all ports in the United States of about $48,000,000 as compared with the calendar year 1890.

An Early Morning Fire.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 4.—Two dwellings, a school house and a barn, were burned in Pawtucket early this morning. Loss $10,000, mostly insured. The place has no fire apparatus.

Defends Himself on the Bribery Charge in the Elliott Trial.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 4.—Juror Aubert, regarding whom startling charges of bribery have been made in connection with the Elliott murder trial, was interviewed by a reporter Sunday night. Aubert is now in Greensburg, Sandusky county, visiting his father-in-law. He refuses absolutely to talk of the secret of the jury room, but makes a general denial of the charges which have been printed regarding his conduct on the jury.

He denies emphatically that he cast a vote for acquittal on the first ballot and says he don't think that any one save that juror himself will ever know who did cast it. Aubert declares he was conscientious in all his actions as a juror and don't want the credit of influencing jurymen of greater age and experience than himself. He says if anyone knows of the attempted bribing in the case he wants their knowledge made public so the actual guilty parties may become known and thus clear him of even a suspicion. He says he never had a conversation with his brother during the trial except in the hearing of others. Aubert intimates that all jurors censured Prosecutor Huling for his reference to Florence, Elliott's wife's sister.

TO LYNCH A MURDERER.

A Mob Surrounds a Jail for That Purpose.

MCMARTHUR, O., Aug. 4.—Michael Woolweaver and his sons Henry and Colby, who killed Car Inspector Leamon and wounded Station Agent Ewing, at McArthur Junction last Saturday, were arraigned before Justice Redd yesterday. They waived examination, and in default of bail were committed to jail.

This town is wild with excitement, and there are pretty reliable rumors of mob violence. The sheriff, on account of the intense feeling, feared to bring his prisoners into court, but started to conduct them to Jackson, and try them there, but the angry crowd refused to allow them to go; then the trial proceeded and the criminals were immolated. An attack is feared upon the jail, as every minute the excitement increases.

AFTER EIGHT YEARS

An Ohio Boy Recalls a Home After Circling the Globe.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O., Aug. 4.—Eight years ago, William McLaughlin, then a youth of 15, asked his mother to get an early supper, that he wished to go to Wheeling. McLaughlin ate, left, and was never seen again by his family, or heard from until Sunday night, when he turned up safe and sound after travels almost over the entire world. In the eight years young McLaughlin has accumulated quite a fortune. He left home in a fit of pique.

Body Brought Back.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—On board the steamer Ems, which arrived here at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was the body of Mrs. Elliott J. Slocum, late of Detroit, who died at Dresden on June 6, where she had gone in February last to visit her sister, Elliott J. Slocum, the dead woman's son, accompanied the remains. He was met at the dock by E. Rose Master, the Hon. Don M. Dickinson and Bishop Worthington of Nebraska. The remains were taken to Detroit on the private car of Mr. Ledyard, president of the Michigan Central road.

Collecting Mail Statistics.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—In order that the census office may be enabled to make a comparative statement showing relative uses being made of the telegraphs, telephonic and mail systems of communications, the postoffice department desires to obtain statistics next month from 148 representative postoffice in the United States showing the number of pieces and the weight of paid mail matter, with the amount of postage thereon, together with the statistics of the free matter mailed during certain specified periods.

Raised a Row with a Knife.

CONTOOCOOCK, N. H., Aug. 4.—William Welsh, of Horse Hill, Concord, caused a row in the house of a family named Walker, about three miles from here yesterday. Welsh was armed with a big dirk knife with which he did considerable execution. Robert Walker was fatally stabbed, while his brother John was severely cut on the arms and ribs. A guest named Hunt was also severely stabbed. Welsh was arrested.

Farmer and Wife Murdered.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 4.—Jackson Donnelly, a rich farmer living five miles east of here, and his wife were found murdered in their house at noon yesterday. The supposed motive for the murder was to secure money, which the robbers expected to find in the house.

Drouth Broken.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Aug. 4.—The drouth, which has prevailed here until farmers began to be alarmed, was broken late Sunday afternoon by a steady rain, which continued all night and until noon today. The ground is thoroughly soaked.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.
TUESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1891.

Omo Republicans are well pleased with free sugar, but they don't want free wool. They are a selfish set of people.

VIVA voce voting is a thing of the past in Kentucky. Elections will hereafter be held under the secret ballot system.

The Mason County Democrats did very well yesterday, but they could have done better if they had all turned out.

KENTUCKY'S Governor-elect, Hon. John Young Brown, is a hustler. He made ninety-one speeches during the late canvass.

WHAT will the Covington Commonwealth cling to now? The people's Constitution has been adopted by an overwhelming vote.

"Equal rights to all, special privileges to none." The people of Kentucky have spoken. No privileged classes in this State any longer.

The People's party nominee for Governor was not "in it" in this section yesterday. When any party appeals to the people for support they must put up men worthy of support, if they don't want to be disappointed.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

Following is the weekly crop bulletin of the Kentucky State Weather Service, in co-operation with the United States Weather Bureau, for the week ending August 1:

"The weather conditions of the past week were characterized by a deficiency in temperature and precipitation and a nearly normal amount of sunshine. The rain came mostly in the form of local thunder storms, which were fairly well distributed through the northern and eastern sections of the State. In these districts the crops show an improved appearance, but in others, where little or no rain has fallen, they are still somewhat backward. Corn is in a generally good condition, and is very fine in sections that have been favored with rain in the past two weeks. The reports of tobacco are somewhat conflicting. It appears that at the present time the outlook for the crop is much better in the southern and western counties than in other parts of the State. In the sections first named some complaint is made of frenching, though the general tenor of reports is not entirely unfavorable. Gardens generally need rain, though as a rule late crops will be very fine. Pastures in most sections of the State are reported to be in good condition, but they would be greatly improved by rain. Fruits, particularly apples and peaches, are reported to be abundant and of fine quality."

Parks' Hill Camp Meeting.

Round trip tickets will be on sale at all stations on the Kentucky Central at low rates during the entire meeting. Special trains will leave camp grounds daily at 4 p. m., connecting at Paris with regular trains for Lexington, Winchester, Mt. Sterling, etc. Also special train will leave camp grounds for Paris at 9 p. m. daily. Special trains and low rates on Sundays, August 9th and 16th. Train will leave Maysville at 8 a. m. Returning, leave camp grounds at 4:30 promptly. Plenty of cars and seats for everybody. Perfect order guaranteed on the trains and grounds. The general management of the meeting will be conducted by Rev. Dr. John Baring, the noted Southern evangelist of Johnson City, Tenn., who will remain during the entire meeting. The services of the meeting will be in charge of Rev. Dr. Morris Evans, of Stanford. The music will be one of the principal features of the meeting, and will be in charge of Professors E. S. Fogg and B. F. Bristow, assisted by a well organized choir.

Last of the Season.

Best excursion of the year to the sea shore at Old Point Comfort. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company will run a special train to Old Point Comfort August 18th, leaving Maysville at 9:58 a. m., and running through to Old Point at remarkably low rates, round trip rate from Maysville being $12.50. Tickets will be good going only on special train, but will be good to return on any regular train, stop over privileges being granted on the return trip. Tourists can avail themselves of the cheap side trips from Old Point Comfort and intermediate junction points to Washington and return via Potomac river steamers and to New York and return by the Old Dominion Steamship Line, to Luray Caverns, Natural Bridge and many other places of interest. Tickets will be good ten days returning.

Pullman sleeping car space can be procured on train, but to make sure, application should be made to C. and O. ticket agents at once.

VICTORIOUS.

Kentucky Democrats Knock Out All Opposition in Monday's Contest.

The Majority Placed at 25,000—The New Constitution Ratified by an Overwhelming Vote.

The election throughout the State yesterday was as quiet as it was in Mason County.

The Courier-Journal had returns this morning from sixty counties, and says these indicate the vote was light in most places, that the majority of the Democratic State ticket will be about 25,000, and that the new Constitution has been ratified by a majority of about 75,000, and perhaps as much as 100,000.

The majorities reported and estimated on the State ticket agree in the main with those of the Governor's race in 1887, when the Democratic plurality was 16,797. There are some gains in favor of the Democrats. The Republicans have lost heavily to the Democrats in Whitley, Bell and other Republican strongholds, and to the People's party in Green, Grayson and elsewhere.

The People's party cut little figure in the returns so far as the State ticket is concerned. People's party candidates for Representative have been elected in Green and Taylor, Bracken, Daviess, Grayson and Laurel, with Hart, Nelson, Simpson, Barren and several other counties in doubt. Other counties have elected Alliance Representatives, who are not People's party nominees.

The people's party seems to have drawn its strength in most of the local races from the Democrats. One notable exception is in the case of Green County, heretofore Republican. Green has given a majority to S. B. Erwin, People's party candidate for Governor.

Live Stock and the Turf.

According to statements in the dailies of Chicago in 1890 the live stock brought into Chicago by the railroads reached the immense total of 311,000 cars, an increase of 46,000 cars over the previous year. It now looks very doubtful if this rate of increase can be maintained in 1891.

The rule against repeated breaking on the part of trotters is being more strictly enforced each season in all parts of the country and the result is that now-a-days the man who owns a skipjack horse has a very undesirable and valueless piece of property, so far as winning any part of the money in a trotting race is concerned.

Senator Stanford, in speaking the other day of horse breeding, said: "There are 13,000,000 horses in the United States, according to the recent census. Imagine what a value we would create if we improved each one of this vast number of animals so that the individual was worth $50 more than now. This is surely possible. I am President of a street railroad in San Francisco, where we have had hundreds of horses. The average life of our animals was three years. But one old horse stood that hard life for nine years. His service was so exceptional I looked up his record. I hired detectives to trace him from one sale to another back to the man and the farm where he was raised. I found his sire was a pedigree horse; his dam was of good blood, though not standard. That explained the superior usefulness of the horse to my mind. Whether we raise horses for the plow or the track, blood will tell and is worth money. Electioneer earned $200,000 a year for me because he was a good horse. The old street car horse earned three times as much for us as his fellows because he was a good horse. Each in his place proved a great truth, and it is time we all know it."

The Best Remedy for Cholera Morbus.

[From the Des Moines (Iowa) Leader.] Some weeks ago a Leader man went into a drug store and asked: "What is the best remedy for cholera morbus?" He was told: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." The medicine was purchased, and worked like a charm. It proved to be very effective, and since we found by experience in our own household that this particular remedy was of real value, we have not hesitated to speak of its merits as occasion offered. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

GOULD'S READY MONEY.

He Can Create a Panic Any Time by Withdrawing $12,000,000.

How much is Jay Gould worth? His contemporaries, associates and critics put him down at about $150,000,000. I suppose it is not much exaggerated. We know, who are brokers and in the banking business here, the influence of his ready money. He has got the best money in the country; it is all liquid money. What do you mean by liquid money? Money which flows like a liquid—like quicksilver, according to the inclination, up or down. The Astors, for example, do not have liquid money; their money is in real estate, upon which they could not realize in tight times as well as in easy times. But Gould's money is here in time of panic as readily as in flush times.

Almost any time he can withdraw from the market $12,000,000, or can keep it loaned. Now, the bank surplus is only $10,000,000. So you see the prodigious power that money has in the mere ebb and flow of it. When Mr. Gould withdraws it, as he is said to do, though I have no knowledge on the subject, the times are terribly tight here. Up goes the rate of interest. Men with obligations are ready to pay almost anything. This money comes to him in the nature of his property.

His property is always earning money in cash. If he resolves to purchase some costly piece of property, like the Union Pacific railroad, he may put his money out to let interest accumulate upon it. He is not, however, a money lender in the sense of Russell Sage, who lends money to earn money. Mr. Gould lends money with an object in view, in the nature of a large merchant. Yet he is without the conditions of such a man—a polite person.

A friend of mine not long ago borrowed $1,000,000 from him in the midst of the panic. This man did not conceal his temporary necessity, but said to Mr. Gould, or rather wrote to him, that whatever interest he was minded to ask would be satisfactory. He says that Gould said to him, "Go along until you get through, and we will see about the rate then." When they came to settle all that Gould asked him was ordinary interest—6 per cent. Such things he does quietly without further remark, and hence many persons who are not very intimate with him, but have had exchanges of that kind to take place, think of him with as much respect as they speak of him.

It must be remembered, however, that he has not lived this life and encountered long hostility and abuse to become a mere philanthropist. He is a gigantic merchant in transportation.—"Gath" in Cincinnati Enquirer.

Climbing the Alps.

The street between the wall and the hotel was called the club room of Zermatt, and it was there that my feelings of respect for the cliffs and precipices of the Matterhorn perished. For there I heard the story of the fat German hauled like a log up the peak by four guides, the rope tied around his waist and fastened to his feet with a slip knot, and he swinging from rock to rock, suspended thousands of feet in the air and they never bothering to look at him; and of the Italian count who made the ascent with seven guides in front, seven behind, and one man to keep his legs straight against the rocks; and of the boy of fourteen following in the train of the conqueror; and of the woman reaching the top, and then, as the guides literally ran her down, quietly sleeping all the way back from the lower hut until the bells of the little church in Zermatt awoke her.

And yet even the cynics who laughed at these tales could be stirred into a show of enthusiasm, and more than once were roused from our first sleep by the ringing cheers with which the men at the Monte Rosa greeted the return of the last hero of the Matterhorn. And, after all, there are certain perils which the exploiters of the Alps cannot wholly counteract.—Century.

Observation at Funerals.

It is a sad commentary on a Christian community, which takes that distinctive title from a religion whose founder is called the Consoler because his word plucks the sting from death, that it surrounds death with every circumstance of woe and gloom. The distinctive ministry of the faith seems to fall at the very point to which it is especially addressed. The natural Christian tone at the burial of the dead would seem to be the cheer that springs from the thought of immortality—a sublime hope, a tender resignation.

The Christian thought in that hour should instinctively dwell upon the soul, not upon the body, and the simplest and most unostentatious rite of burial would seem to be the most truly Christian. But the ostentation of Christian funerals has become so great that burial reform associations are formed, both in this country and in England, to relieve the poor of the painful and needless cost which, from mistaken respect for the dead, they will not spare so long as ostentation is the custom.—George William Curtis in Harper's.

Our Keystone State visitors took in Blue Lick Springs Saturday, the gallant Mr. T. B. Trigg acting as escort of Miss Emma Mayer, of Norwood. Mr. Gulterman, editor Shamokin Dispatch, is an artist as well as a printer and quill driver. He made a number of interesting views of the picturesque surroundings of the famous springs with his little camera, the "Hawkeye," and then the party joined in a "Skip to Me, Lou" quadrille under the alluring strains of the Limestone Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Gulterman and son, Guy, and Miss Ida Heobner, of Pennsylvania, arrived here last week to visit Mrs. J. T. Sult, sisters and nephew of Mrs. Sult, and are now pleasantly domiciled at "Canary Cottage." The young ladies are accompanied by their relatives, with a limited number of special friends, an elegant tea Tuesday evening in honor of their first visit to Kentucky. Miss Carrie Dye, with her guest, Miss Emma Mayer, of Cincinnati, Miss Mary Leachman and Mrs. J. D. Dye, of Maysville, and a few agreeable gentlemen diversified the entertainment.

A fish hawk pulled a large salmon out of the Elk river one day last week. The fish was too large for the bird to carry off, so leaving it on the sand the bird flew off to a pile of driftwood, and picking up a stick with a sharp and jagged edge returned to where the fish lay and sawed it in two, when it flew away with half of the salmon. The other half was served for our dinner.—Del Norte (Cal.) Record.

A Coughing Suit.

THE "HOLY COAT OF TRIER."

The Garment Supposed to Have Been Worn by the Savior Will Be Exhibited at the Cathedral in Trier for Six Weeks, Commencing August 18—Other Items.

TRIER, Aug. 4.—The "Holy Coat of Trier," the garment supposed to have been worn by the Savior, will be exhibited at the cathedral here for six weeks, commencing Aug. 18. Fully 2,000,000 of pilgrims are expected to visit Trier during that time. An earnest and long controversy has been waged concerning the genuineness of the relic. Chaplain Dasbach, member of the Prussian diet, and one of the committee for the exhibition, of the holy robe, thinks there can be no possible doubt as to its genuineness. It has been exhibited only twice during this century, once in 1810 and once in 1844. Many miracles are claimed to have been performed by this robe, and it is said to still possess great merit.

The relic is said to have been given as a present to the bishopric of Trier by St. Helen, the mother of Emperor Constantine upon the latter's conversion to Christianity.

The robe itself is a tunic about five feet long, cut narrow at the shoulders and gradually widening towards the knees. It is woven out of one piece, without any seam whatever. The material is supposed to have been linen, but its great age prevents any exact examination. It is enclosed in an outer casing of purple and gold cloth, supposed to have been added some time in the seventh century in order to preserve the relic. During the exhibition extra trains will be run daily to Trier from Coblenz and Cologne.

Royal Family Stricken.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The royal house of Belgium is again stricken. Queen Marie, wife of King Leopold and mother of the hapless Stephanie, is said to be dying, and every body is talking about the ill-luck that has attended the members of Leopold's household. Charlotte, his sister, is the insane widow of the executed Emperor Maximilian.

Stephanie, his daughter, is the widow of the late Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, who ended his life by suicide, and Baudouin, his nephew and idol, designated as heir to the throne, was recently carried off by a mysterious disease, not without suspicion of self-inflicted violence. Now Queen Marie, about a year younger than her middle-aged husband, is dying away from him at a time when he most needs her company and her sympathy. And yet Leopold is one of the most amiable and democratic of kings. The dying queen is an Austrian grand duchess, and was married to Leopold about thirty-eight years ago. They have been an affectionate couple, so far as the world could observe, and Leopold has had a true helpmate in his queen.

The Strike in London.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Yesterday the strike of the London building trades entered upon the fourteenth week. Three thousand five hundred men, all members of unions, are out on a strike. The men declare that their treasury is amply provided with funds to carry on the struggle, and £1,200 of strike money was paid on Saturday. It is claimed by the unions that they can outlast the employers. These, however, are determined not to yield to the terms that they regard as disastrous to their business.

Industrial discontent is spreading in the metropolis. Of the 30,000 drivers of wagons in London, 6,000 have joined a union, with the avowed object of striking when winter comes for the improvement of their condition. The drivers say that 20,000 of their number average ninety hours a week for wages of from eighteen to twenty-eight shillings a week. This they regard as beneath the ordinary treatment of common laborers, and the public sympathy is with them in their purpose to improve their situation.

A Garrison Attacked.

MADRID, Aug. 4.—The city of Barcelona was greatly excited last night by an attack upon the garrison. About fifteen men well armed approached the barracks and when challenged by the sentry rushed upon the guards, firing as they went and attempted to force an entry to the barracks. The troops were hastily summoned to arms and after a brief but desperate conflict the attacking party were overpowered and captured. Several of them as well as some of the sentries were wounded in the fight.

It was spread abroad that a revolution had been attempted by the Republicans and the city was greatly agitated. The government announces, however, that the attack was brought about by speculators who sought to cause a decline in prices on the bourse. The prisoners will be court-martialed and doubtless be shot.

A Republican Movement.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—No credit is given in London to the statement that the outbreak in Barcelona was altogether the work of speculators. It is believed here that it had a genuine republican origin, and to have been prompted by a purpose to overthrow the royal dynasty. The most searching inquiries are being made by the ministry as to the scope of the outbreak, which hardly deserves to be called an insurrection. The Spanish Republicans are said to be watching anxiously for a revolution in Portugal, which would no doubt be followed by a general uprising in Spain. Barcelona is the center of Spanish radicalism, and there, if anywhere, a revolution would stand a chance of success.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—From Italy comes the news that the government has begun retrenching at the foot by deciding to dismiss 3,000 workmen from the government docks this month. The decision has aroused widespread discontent among the workmen and the large number to be thus thrown on their own resources are said to be ripe for mischief.

ELECTION IN KENTUCKY.

The New Constitution Carried by an Overwhelming Majority.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 4.—Yesterday was the last election by viva voce vote that will ever be held in Kentucky. The new constitution, despite its powerful opposition of railroads, banks and corporations generally, has carried by an overwhelming majority, and the last state constitution that still recognized slavery is a thing of the past. The new constitution will tax railways, banks and stock companies, abolish the office of public printer; provide for a secret ballot system and municipal government reforms and also carries an anti-lottery clause which will wipe out that of the dozen lottery charters now being operated with semi-daily drawings at Covington and Louisville in the interests of "policy" games throughout the United States generally.

Reports from the cities and towns throughout the state indicate that the Democratic ticket has about the usual majority—probably 20,000. Indications are that the Alliance or People's party vote is very small despite the fact that every effort was made for two months preceding the election to organize the Alliance men in this state, all the leaders of that movement of national reputation, including Senator Peffer and Jerry Simpson, of Kansas, Taubeneck of Illinois, and Davis of Texas, having stumped the state thoroughly. The greater part of the Alliance vote seems to have been drawn from the Republican party. The vote for and against the new constitution was without partisan significance. Later returns indicate that the vote for the new constitution is fully five times as great as that against it.

NIAGARA GUESTS ROBBED

By a Toronto Young Lady Who Finally Comes to Grief.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Guests at nearly all the principal summer hotels at Niagara have been missing valuables lately. Sunday Chief of Police Denan, of Niagara Falls, arrested Jennie McElroy, a handsome and stylishly dressed young lady, on the charge of being the thief. Articles were found that she had taken from the International hotel, Hotel Porter and Hotel Atlantique. She acknowledged her guilt and was sent to jail here for two months. Miss McElroy hails from Toronto and gives her age as twenty-two years. She has been doing a big business.

Dakota Crops Simply Great.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 4.—W. E. Powell, general immigration agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company, who has just returned from North and South Dakota says: "I visited a large number of counties in the north state and every one in South Dakota and it is only justice and the truth to say that better crops were never seen before. The harvest is over and secured and it is simply immense. The crops throughout the northwest are on a par with the Dakota's, simply great everywhere."

Result of an Old Feud.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.—A special to The Picayune from Lake Charles says: Yesterday at Lock, Moore & Company's steam road an altercation between the men employed there took place in which ten men were shot, six of whom were killed at once and one mortally wounded. The remaining three are seriously injured, but may recover. The difficulty took place about twenty miles from here and as the means of communication are very poor we have not been able to learn full particulars, but it is known to be the result of an old feud.

Minister Burned to Death.

PALMER, Mass., Aug. 4.—Rev. Mr. Williams, a retired Congregational minister, was burned to death by the burning of the Weeks House, this city, at 2 o'clock Monday morning. The other thirty-five guests escaped in their night clothes. Mr. Williams' body was found near the door after the fire was out. It was charred to a crisp. The guests lost all their property. Loss on building, $30,000.

Fire on Staten Island.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Fire started about 9 o'clock yesterday evening in the large brick building of the Richmond Electric Light, Heat and Power company, at St. George, Staten Island, and within an hour destroyed the entire structure with its contents. Loss, $200,000. Two firemen were injured by falling walls, and one by being run over by an engine.

Looking for Gallagher.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The police have been asked to look for Francis X. Gallagher, of Washington, missing from 1172 Tinton avenue since July 23. He is forty-seven years old, five feet, nine inches in height and has dark hair, gray eyes and grey moustache. When last seen he wore a blue coat, light striped pants and black derby hat and patent leather shoes.

Became a Raving Maniac.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 4.—Charles W. Lockwood, of this city, a messenger between this city and New York, wandered away on Saturday and was found on the Derby road in a demented condition. On removal to his home he became a raving maniac, and will probably be sent to the asylum.
